Subject: Specification Label on ME3112 only

Models affected: ME3112 only

The specification/ serial number label on some ME3112 models may have the incorrect specification listed under the model number. Both the Inverter and Charger specs may be incorrect. The printer mistakenly printed 1500 watt specs on this label. All other information including model, serial number and listing information is correct.

To identify the incorrect label look under the "Model" information at the top of the label. If the information is for 1500 watts the label needs correction.

To correct the old label, call Magnum Energy and order new overlays for the existing label. Affix the new overlay directly over the old label in the specification area.
